

GOD MADE GIRL WORKSHOP SUPPLY LIST

Below is the supply list for the workshop. But feel free to use any kind of supplies. You can paint on paper, cardboard or canvas. And you can use markers or paints and glue instead of the artist glue (Gel Medium). This is all for fun! So if you have supplies at home, you can use them and follow along. And here is the supply list plus the link to the supply list as well.

You can buy several of these items on Amazon by clicking here. You can also find these at Michaels, Hobby Lobby, or Blick.com

PAINTING SUPPLY LIST

Canvas: 11"x14" I use gallery wrap which is 1.5" thick, but you can get the regular thickness as well.

Paints: Liquitex basics paint (Acrylic) or Amsterdam Acrylics
Most sets come with small tubes, but are more affordable than buying individual larger tubes. You don't have to use the exact colors I use in the paintings. And it can be fun to mix your own! The only one I recommend you buy an individual tube of is Reflex Rose.

Colors in Dress painting that I love to use:

Titanium white • Primary red • Black • Cadmium yellow light • Naples hue yellow • Light blue permanent • Reflex Rose

Optional colors to use:

Light Green permanent • Naphthal crimson • Medium magenta

Liquitex Gel Medium and Varnish This is the glue and sealer I use.

Paint Brushes: 12, 6, 8 round

Chalk: to outline the dress

Things you can find around your house

Styrofoam or paper plate or wax paper to place your paint on.

Paper towel or rag to dry your brush.

A glass of water to keep paint brushes in when not using them.

Paper to place in dress: It can be wrapping paper, tissue paper, patterned and colorful napkins, scrapbook paper. Any kind of paper that makes you happy is the best kind of paper! And then we'll use it designing our dress! YAY!
